To whom it may concern

This letter is to formally invite a candidate in your university to the Ewha-Luce International Seminar (ELIS): Expanding Horizons 2018 (ELIS 2018, hereafter), is operated and planned by the Ewha Institute for Leadership Development.

Ewha Womans University, in conjunction with the Henry Luce Foundation, introduces ELIS 2018 that is a residential internship program, especially designed to foster global women leaders majoring in STEM (Science, Technology, Engineering, and Mathematics) subjects.

This special project aims to provide meaningful coverage over various issues around science, and it is now in its forth phase of development with much progress from the successful experience since the inaugural program in 2015. I trust that this special opportunity will an unforgettable time for the participant of ELIS 2018, and they will enjoy every moment of the journey.

It would be our sincere hope that a potential female leader from your university could participate in ELIS 2018 at Ewha Womans University, Seoul, Korea next summer, and here I send our deepest wishes for advancement of leadership in STEM at both your University and Ewha through ELIS Expanding Horizons.

Please do not hesitate to contact us if there are any questions.
